THERE'S MORE TO EXPLORE IN BERMUDA

Following the American Revolution, the British lost all of their strategic ports on the US mainland and instead turned to their "Gibraltar of the West," the Royal Naval Dockyard. The dockyard remained a strategic base in the Atlantic for England and an active shipyard through WWI and WWII, until it stopped serving the Royal Navy in 1951.

TAKE HOME A STORY

BERMUDA FUN FACT

Bermuda is actually an archipelago made up of seven main islands and a multitude of smaller islets with an average width of one mile. It's only 25 miles long and is two miles wide at its widest point. No more than a one-mile walk will bring you within toe-dipping distance of the deep blue sea that you'll be so tempted to dive right into.

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

Local Agricultural Law prohibits taking the following items ashore: plants, fruits, vegetables, meat & illegal substances which can result in an immediate fine.

AGRICULTURAL NOTICE

Due to public health regulations – food of any kind (hot, raw or unpacked/packed) will not be allowed to be brought onboard or taken off the ship at any time. Any beverages are not allowed to be brought onboard. Wine or liquor purchased in any port of call and brought on board, will be stored by the ship and given back on the evening before disembarkation or the morning of disembarkation.

BERMUDA FACE MASK ADVISORY

Please be informed that in Bermuda, face masks are not required to be worn in the terminal. Masks are required when using public transportation or accessing medical facilities. Original or copies of vaccination cards are not required.
